CHURCH MUSIC.

A country church with a feeble melodeon playing "Old Hundred" and the congregation making themselves hoarse over a vocal effort at the hymn in which they are simultaneous rather than control of the litalian army are the finest-looking men I have seen. They are a good-natured, jolly people, and even should one cheat you now and then he will do it, like a Frenchman, with so much politeness and appearent affection for you that it reality seems rude to protest spainst it.

Being downtown one day to see the funeral procession at the burial of Gen. Pasi—a most brilliant military parade and elbowing my way slowly through the difference between such a crowd here and with us. "I had catrich for eleven or twelve years. I tried patent medicines, but they did me no good. What troubled me most was the dropping of succes back in my throat. I was hawking and apitting all the time, especially in the mornings. I got very abort-winded, and I had to draw three breaths in playing the cornet where I have to draw one breath now. That is because I went under the treatment of Doctors McCoy and Wildman, and I have no more bother at all. I used to have sharp, aborting pans in my chest, and my appetite was miserable, and my shoet, and my shoet, and find the dropping has in my throat worried ms a great deat. Nothing sorries me any more. I feel a great difference in playing now. I feel like a new when I at I we got as appetite like a liver now. When I at I stormed the death of the same with the difference in the world between my health now and when I first sent to Dectors McCoy and Wildman. As I said, I feel like a new man."
